

ANNUAL REPORT

2021-2022

Looking Forward...
Staying In Place

MEALS on WHEELS MERCER COUNTY

FROM THE CEO

The emergence from the COVID 19 pandemic has had its fits and starts: not smooth by any means. Within the first year, everyone was grappling with what the “new normal” would be, and now what “returning to normal” is going to look like, both individually and collectively. Virtual communications platforms kept us “close” to our loved ones; online streaming kept us as entertained as possible; and grocery delivery kept us nourished when our regular ways of carrying out our daily lives were abruptly stymied. But not everyone was able to take advantage of these conveniences.

And here we are, over two years later, and all those things now seem to be diminishing in importance for many of us, although to be honest, they were never a bridge to “normalcy” during the pandemic for those we serve. Our population was socially isolated and technologically challenged before the pandemic and continue like this today.

Most of those we serve do not have the resources for, nor the knowledge of virtual platforms. They remain the generation not exposed to the internet and how useful it can be as a connection to family and friends, and an occasional grocery delivery. The social isolation experienced by so many of us was nothing new to them either. And as we try to return to a different “normal”, they continue to be isolated and in need of life sustaining, nutritious meals, and daily friendly visits from our volunteers.

While some things may have changed for many of us, we now can go out, socialize, return to grocery stores en masse, and enjoy outdoor activities. As we cherish our many blessings, we should not forget that little has changed for a population that was invisible before and is still that way. The spotlight that the pandemic put on the vulnerability of our elder population is now diminishing. Yet, the numbers of those we serve now are higher than before the pandemic began.

Meals on Wheels of Mercer County, cognizant of the needs of our homebound neighbors, continues to be there for them, with your help! Now we all understand the value of good nutrition, and a caring, friendly face to ease the social isolation so many of them still face. This past year, we even rolled out a pilot technology program to begin to introduce connectivity to some of our seniors! We hope to expand that next year.

As volunteers, donors and supporters, you are their extended family. We ask that you continue to support our efforts, and not forget them as we emerge resiliently from this pandemic.

THANK YOU! THANK YOU! THANK YOU!
